The Financial Access for Rural Markets, Smallholders and Enterprises (FARMSE) Programme organized a Rural Finance Innovation Symposium on 5th-6th December, 2019 at Sunbird Mount Soche Hotel, in Blantyre on the theme “Leveraging Digital Technology to Deliver Financial Services for Rural Markets.” The symposium was aimed at providing a platform for raising awareness and sharing of experiences by providers and stakeholders on innovations, technologies and best practices for delivering financial services to the rural markets. The event drew participants, presenters, exhibitors and panelists from Malawi and other countries in the African region with representation from commercial banks, mobile networks operators, FinTechs, insurance companies, microfinance institutions, financial cooperatives, promoters of community based financial organizations (CBFOs), ICT, financial sector regulation and policy makers, asset and wealth management, commodity exchanges, consultants in rural finance, and academia and research institutions.